

If I Could Just Get Out of My Own Head: A No-Nonsense Guide to Communicating Effectively

By Barbara Small, M.A.

ISBN # 978-0-9811020-2-3

Table of Contents

Introduction

What is Communication?

The Importance of Good Communication Skills
How We Learn to Communicate

The Communication Process

How Communication Problems Occur

What Helps and Hinders Our Communication

How Miscommunication Can Happen
Behaviors that Help and Hinder Communication

The Impact of Self-talk on Communication

What is Self-talk?
How Self-talk Works
Self-talk and the Communication Process

How to Change Your Self-talk

Steps to Changing Your Negative Self-talk
Step 1: Increase awareness of your self-talk
Step 2: Ask yourself, “Whose voice is this?”
Step 3: Challenge or dispute this belief or thought
Step 4: Replace or reframe this belief or thought
Step 5: Repeat this process as needed
Step 6: Use positive self-talk on a regular basis

The Building Blocks to Effective Communication

Communication Skills Self-Assessment

Building Block #1: Body Language and Other Non-verbal Communication

Examples of Non-Verbal Communication
Congruent Body Language
Body Language and Emotions
Respecting People’s Personal Space
Body Positioning
Voice Tone
Non-verbal Behaviors that Help Ensure Clear Communication

Building Block #2: Active Listening Skills

12 Signs You Are Not Listening

What is a Good Listener?

How Do You Rate as a Listener?

Tips for Improving Your Active Listening Skills

Tip #1: Pay attention

Tip #2: Adopt body language that indicates listening

Tip #3: Use listening responses (encouragers)

Tip #4: Listen for the whole message

Tip #5: Hearing before evaluating

Tip #6: Be mindful of your own biases and prejudices

Tip #7: Quiet your mind

Tip #8: Avoid rehearsing your response

Tip #9: Paraphrase the other's words

Tip #10: Limit your own talking

Tip #11: Agree to disagree

Tip #12: Reflecting or mirroring other's feelings

Tip #13: Ask rather than assume

Tip #14: Use questions effectively

Tip #15: Effective use of silence

Tip #16: Avoid being a mind-reader

Tip #17: Avoid giving advice

Poor Listening Habits

“When I Ask You to Listen”

Building Block #3: Speaking Clearly and Effectively

12 Signs You Are Not Communicating Effectively

Tips for Sending a Clear Message

Tip #1: Think before you speak

Tip #2: Be clear on your intentions

Tip #3: Ensure you have the other person's attention

Tip #4: Right time and right place

Tip #5: Introduce the topic

Tip #6: “I” statements

Tip #7: Make your messages concrete and specific

Tip #8: Less is more

Tip #9: Don't hint, just say it

Tip #10: Stay on topic

Tip #11: Congruent body language

Tip #12: Ask for feedback

Tip #13: Familiar frame of reference

Tip #14: Avoid disclaimers

Tip #15: Direct vs. indirect styles of speaking

Verbal Roadblocks to Clear Communication

Communicating Assertively

Four Styles of Communication

12 Signs That You Are Not Being Assertive

Communication Styles are Learned

Four Communication Styles in Relationships

Tips for Expressing Yourself Assertively

Beginning to Communicate Assertively

How to Say It

Saying No and Refusing Requests

Quick Tips to Remember